

How much v. How many

Complete the sentences, using how much or how many and have got or has got.

Example:

How much olive oil have you got? I have got a litre.

How many apples has he got? He has got five apples.

1. water? I a lot.
2. sugar? She a kilo.
3. cars? He two cars.
4. butter.....? I some.
5. books? He five books.
6. brothers? She three brothers.
7. packets of tea? I ten packets.
8. tea? I a lot.
9. oranges? He four or five.
10. money? She a lot.
11. milk? I two cartons.
12. children? They two children.

How much v. How many

Complete the sentences, using how much or how many and have got or has got.

Example:

How much olive oil have you got? I have got a litre.

How many apples has he got? He has got five apples.

1. How much water have you got? I have got a lot.
2. How much sugar has she got? She has got a kilo.
3. How many cars has he got? He has got two cars.
4. How much butter have you got? I have got some.
5. How many books has he got? He has got five books.
6. How many brothers has she got? She has got three brothers.
7. How many packets of tea have you got? I have got ten packets.
8. How much tea have you got? I have got a lot.
9. How many oranges has he got? He has got four or five.
10. How much money has she got? She has got a lot.
11. How much milk have you got? I have got two cartons.
12. How many children have they got? They have got two children.